Daviess County VITA (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance) volunteer and RSVP member Connie Morgan enrolled in the GRABC (Green River Asset Building Coalition) to prepare taxes for low income families. However, in her words, she did it “for all of the wrong reasons.” In sharing her story at our annual VITA kick off meeting, she said that for years she was certain “the IRS had a pair of handcuffs with her name on them”. She had always found filing taxes to be a time of tension and trepidation. After retiring from the local school administration, she was determined to overcome her fear of the tax process so she enrolled in RSVP as a VITA Volunteer. She says she loves it for so many reasons including meeting and helping families in her community, and getting to “hang out” with her fellow volunteers. Knowing that she is saving those financially challenged families money makes her proud. She claims she is no longer afraid of the IRS!
