

American Red Cross

An early morning apartment fire in Owensboro this January left multiple families' homes significantly damaged by smoke and water. While the residents all made it out safely, it was a traumatic event, and our responders provided emergency assistance for 13 families who were impacted, including four babies under nine months of age and other children as well. With the help of our partners, the Owensboro Fire Department, our ambulance service, and the police and Sheriff's department, responders were able to provide assistance quickly after arriving on the scene. We are fortunate to have selfless volunteers dedicated to providing this help any time of day or night to families who experience a devastating event such as a home fire.