Provided by Kindergarten teacher at Fordsville Elementary

Grandpa Dan is a wonderful addition to our classroom. Each day he comes in our classroom with great enthusiasm to see all of the children. In our room, Grandpa Dan has built a strong relationship with a little boy who does not have an active male role model in his life. Grandpa Dan encourages him, reads with him, and teaches him about many things other than school curriculum. He not only goes above and beyond for our students in the classroom, but also outside of it. During the Christmas season our class hosted a Christmas tea. Grandpa Dan stayed after his scheduled time at the school to attend and eat cookies with the students who did not have a family member there. His willingness to go above and beyond to help our students does not go unnoticed.
