

Food Pantry

Because of the pandemic, many senior citizens were concerned about receiving their monthly food allotments as public exposure was strongly discouraged. A few dedicated volunteers worked together to check in on the elderly clients and to make sure they received food assistance. These volunteers even volunteered to do no-contact porch delivery for these vulnerable clients.